#SingaporeSling

Did you know our iconic Singapore Sling is served with straws made with potato starch?

Inspired by Malayan plantation life in the 1920s, the earthy décor of Long Bar brings patrons back to the age of the tropical plantation with its deep, rich colours and punkah wallah ceiling fans.

Home of the Singapore Sling for over 100 years, our iconic cocktail was first created in 1915 at Raffles Singapore by Hainanese bartender Ngiam Tong Boon. A gin-based cocktail, the Singapore Sling was created to resemble a fruit punch. Back then as etiquette dictated that ladies could not consume alcohol in public, Bartender Ngiam created a cocktail, masking it with a pink rosy hue to lead people into thinking it was a fruit punch. With that, the Singapore Sling was born.
